“To play without passion is inexcusable!”

Ludwig van Beethoven

Piano ... from passion to symphony

Componist of the Piano Switches:

David Dos Santos is a young very promising Belgian designer. We choose to work with him as he has no history in designing switches. This was the best way to come up with a brand new, original and trend breaking design. As David has not been influenced by past jobs he was able to create a truly unique design that is both daring still comfortable and usable in every type of house from a modern to a classical design.
